

TROUBLE AT CONEY REV. LOUIS WALSH

More Disturbances Over the Double Fare

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—All yesterday disturbances growing out of opposing orders and opinions by public and by corporation officials and disorder which at times threatened to become acute owing to the determination of the people marked the situation in Brooklyn arising from the decision by supreme court justice Gaynor on Saturday that the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company has not a right to charge a double fare of ten cents to Coney Island.

Conditions are not much clearer today than they were yesterday though far more quiet, owing to the activity of the police and less travel.

That the officials of Kings county and the borough of Brooklyn were prepared to enforce Justice Gaynor's decision became apparent during the day. District Attorney Clarke of Kings county detailed one of his assistants to hear complaints of rough treatment by the company's employees because they had refused to pay an extra fare.

Mr. Clarke also announced that he would be ready to quell any fresh disturbances. Mr. Clarke's assistant, Borough president Fred S. Coley, issued a public statement advising persons to pay but a single fare for a ride from points in Brooklyn to Coney Island and the police in the affected districts were ordered to be ready to quell any fresh disturbances.

that the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company had the right to refuse to carry persons who refused to pay a second fare, and the company's employees might use force, if need be, in the case of resistance.

Meanwhile the company, through its counsel, ex-Judge Edward M. Horner, issued a statement defending the right of the company to charge a double fare to Coney Island. It held that the question of fare was not involved in the case which came up before Justice Gaynor but that a price decision of the appellate division of the supreme court, relating to this phase of the double fare question had been nullified.

J. Underwood, vice president and general manager of the company, backed up this opinion by a statement that a business would be done in the same old way.

Yesterday afternoon the company's employees again began hitting cars whenever second fares were not forthcoming from passengers and demanding their payment. Several attacks occurred and there were some arrests. Numerous threats were made against the company and in some instances stones were thrown at cars and company employees.

The company last night forestalled to a large extent further disturbances by moving some of the trolley cars where most of the trouble yesterday occurred. This became necessary because trolley car traffic had become so congested. The elevated tracks were jammed but a rule the passengers paid the double fare without question rather than undergo delay. These, however, who did otherwise on many of the company's lines were obliged by its representatives to get off and walk.

The body of a young woman which had not been identified up to midnight was found yesterday night on a trolley car on Coney Island track. The opinion is ventured by detectives that she may have met her death during the disturbance over double car fare to Coney Island when walking on the track or otherwise.

Late last night the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company released its enforcement of its rule that double fares must be paid. Numbers of passengers on cars bound from Coney Island, who would not pay the extra five cents were allowed by conductors and inspectors to continue on their way.

A inspector of the company who had been one of its special inspectors was promptly arrested last night for an alleged assault on a boy. Early in the night operation of trolley cars along Gravesend avenue was suspended by the company but deputy police commissioner O'Keefe and a police inspector obliged the motorman to proceed.

A CARD

We beg to announce to the people of Lowell that we have secured the agency for one of the greatest discoveries of recent years. We refer to the preparation of Sir Erasmus Wilson, M.D., England's most successful specialist in diseases of the scalp, who was knighted for his many successes in the treatment of skin and scalp. Upon the death of Dr. Wilson this preparation was secured by American chemists and is now offered to the public under the name "Er. Wilson's English Life to the Hair." This preparation will grow hair on bald heads, even after all else fails. Unlike other hair preparations it is not sticky or greasy, but gives a fine and glossy appearance to the hair. Miss Cornelia Stevens, 6 Smith Avenue, Boston, Mass., says: "Dr. Wilson's English Life to the Hair grew a magnificent head of hair for me after I was told that I was becoming hopelessly bald. My hair is now reaching nearly to my waist and is heavy and glossy. I cannot too highly recommend it." If you are growing bald, troubled with eruptions, dandruff, scales, or any scalp troubles, try Dr. Wilson's Life to the Hair. Agents, Falls & Burkinshaw, 413 Middlesex street, Lowell, Mass. REV. LOUIS S. WALSH, NEW BISHOP OF PORTLAND.

Appointed Bishop of Portland by the Pope

ROME, Aug. 14.—Pope Pius yesterday approved the decision of the Propaganda to appoint the Rev. Louis S. Walsh of Salem, Mass., bishop of Portland.

The Pope yesterday received in private audience Mgr. Deibert, O'Connell, rector of the Catholic University at Washington. To Mgr. O'Connell the pontiff expressed great pleasure at the news of the presidency of the university, and urged him to continue with the program he has followed. The Pope inquired affectionately for Cardinal Gibbons, and gave Mgr. O'Connell a cordial message for him. The Pope said his interest in the scholastic question in America had been enhanced by the recent Catholic convention at Cleveland.

FR. WALSH'S CAREER

Rev. Louis S. Walsh has been known to the Catholic people of New England for many years as one of the clergy-men most interested in the education of the young and for his defense of parochial schools in public when occasion demanded it.

The office of supervisor of parochial schools of the archdiocese of Boston has brought him into close connection with every parish, and his connection with St. John's seminary, Brighton, for many years previous, brought him into direct communication with many of the students of that institution, who are now among the pastors all over the New England states.

Rev. Fr. Walsh was born in Salem in 1829, and received his early education in the public schools of that city, entering the high school after completing the course in the lower grades. In 1856 he graduated from the high school, and in the fall of the same year entered Holy Cross college, Worcester.

The next year he was accepted by Archbishop Williams as a proper candidate for the priesthood, and sent to the grand seminary in Montreal to study theology. In Montreal he received the highest satisfaction from his superiors and instructors.

As a mark of his appreciation for the excellent work the young student had done in Montreal he was chosen by the archbishop to finish his ecclesiastical studies at the grand seminary in Paris.

From Paris Rev. Fr. Walsh went to Rome, where he completed his studies and was ordained to the priesthood in December, 1862. On his return to his own diocese he was appointed assistant to Rev. William Daly, then pastor of St. Joseph's church, Chambers street, Boston, who had been in charge of St. James' church, Salem, and knew the newly ordained priest from his childhood.

He remained at St. Joseph's with Rev. Fr. Daly and Very Rev. William H. Daly, his successor, in the parsonage of the church, until the opening of St. John's seminary at Brighton. Able Hogan, who had taken so much interest in Fr. Walsh as a student in Paris, was made the head of the new seminary, and there being need of a superior, he was called to the position. Fr. Walsh was then in contact with the schools of every parish in the archdiocese, and has become known to parents and children everywhere.

Notwithstanding the arduous duties of his office, he has had time to take part in the meetings of educators, and place through them and the public press before the public the true position of the Catholic church on the matter of education.

Personally Rev. Fr. Walsh is a man of most amiable disposition, his open manner hiding well the force of character and determination of spirit that has been one of the principal aids to his success in the various positions to which he has been called.

Among the clergymen of the archdiocese of Boston he is not only admired for his labors in the cause of the schools but is also beloved for his personal qualities.

As an executive in the seminary and in his later work in the schools he has displayed a tact and strength that will be of great service to him in his new position as head of the most extensive diocese in the east.

WELL KNOWN IN MAINE

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 14.—While Catholics had generally looked for the appointment of Rev. Fr. Walsh as bishop of Portland, they have as far as seen had kindly words for Rev. Louis S. Walsh, who was last evening announced as the appointee.

He is well known in Lewiston and Portland, and his name is very familiar to Portland Catholics, who have a high respect for his family and devotion to his work. He was a frequent visitor to this state until the death of his brother, James Walsh of Lewiston.

men were injured, two probably fatally, in a shooting and stabbing affray yesterday on a Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul train entering Sparta, Wis., and at the Sparta station Louis Pelz of Milwaukee, bounding forward after leaving a parlor car where he had been the object of comment on account of his unkempt appearance, drew a knife and attacked the conductor. A struggle followed until Sparta was reached when the town marshal arrested Pelz. Pelz was shot seven times and may die. Marshall Hubbard of Sparta was stabbed six times and may die.

H. Cunningham, Greenwood, Wis., passenger conductor, stabbed John Christensen, blacksmith, Harry English, Alfred Johnson, were either stabbed or shot.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

If you happen at Lakeview during the afternoon or evening just drop in to the cozy little theatre at the rear of the flying horse and enjoy a good laugh. The Impassible Vandellie company, doing the entertaining, there this week and the performance consists of a great many wonderful stunts in the vaudeville line. There are six acts in all and each and every one is worthy of honorable mention. It is not the best vaudeville show that ever happened but it is a very good one and it is as full of fun as an egg in full of meat.

Birth and Bapt. Band and a European turn consisting of grotesque features that is very amusing and quite clever. The dramatic quartet, four colored folk, sing some songs while they prepare tables for a swell banquet. This is ordered and very good. Howard Collier is a body singer. Is all to the good and Arthur and Melano, mystifiers of the old world, are very, very funny. The Abscure do a revolting ladder act that is a moral gymnastic feat of the first order. See the show and laugh and grow fat.

"GRAFT" CASES BROKE HER NECK

Two Chelsea Aldermen But Margaret Winn

Were Indicted Will Live

GRAND JURY TOOK FELL DOWN FLIGHT

ACTION OF STAIRS

On the Aldermanic Committee's Report She Was Removed to St. John's Hospital

BOSTON, Aug. 14.—The so-called "graft" cases continued today. The grand jury took action on a motion of the board of aldermen of this city over the election of a city auditor, city solicitor and a principal reason.

On Jan. 15 Alderman William J. Young made charges of graft and bribery relating to the contests for these three offices. It created a great stir with the result that a special investigation committee, consisting of Aldermen William H. Black, Thomas E. Higgins, Edgar E. Street, David White and William S. Young.

Alderman Young absented from the report and in his absence the committee took the great mass of testimony taken and was unable to make a guide for the members of the board of aldermen to act by. One of the features of the majority report was that it found absolutely nothing improper in any way in the conduct of Alderman William H. Black.

The majority report was discussed for several meetings by the board and it was finally decided to send the matter to the district attorney, and it was not until the present sitting of the grand jury that the matter was reached. Since then the issue has been the subject of much discussion in the city and only a few subjects discussed in the board and have brought about many heated arguments.

The individuals of Messrs. Russell, White and Nichols grew out of entirely separate parties. The two former are present members of the board of aldermen and Mr. Nichols is the secretary of the city of Boston. The committee and have figured in the politics for several years.

In pursuance of an order of the grand jury of aldermen last week a report was made on the Chelsea north bridge. Mr. Russell, then, as now, was a member of the board of aldermen. The order called for an appropriation of $10,000 for street and bridge repaving, and of this $10,000 was a vote to be spent on the bridge. Russell bought a lot of the Chelsea north bridge and we therefore believe that the law with reference to members of the city government doing business with the city is strictly enforced. It has been violated by him.

The aldermanic committee's report with reference to Alderman White stated that the committee believed that he either wrote or caused to be written a note to William H. Hall, the late town clerk, to the effect that in which he asked Hall to call in either his (White's) house or place and either bring settlement or make settlement. "As I have been fooled in these deals before," the aldermanic committee also reported its belief that White made a proposition to Alderman Russell to obtain a loan from Hall the sum of $250 for the contract of (Russell's) vote and his own (White's) vote.

In the case of Mr. Nichols the aldermanic committee's report set forth that Nichols made an improper proposition to Alderman Charles A. Warren concerning the town clerk's salary, alleged to have been used by Nichols in a conversation on the subject of Hall's embezzlement for auditor. "Now I know you would not take any money and I know that Alderman Gale would not take money, but you are friendly with Alderman Gale and associated in the church with him and in the city of Boston, and I think you have influence enough with him to get him to vote for Mr. Hall for auditor. I should not expect you to do that for nothing and if a matter of $50 or so would be any inducement to you to use your influence with Alderman Gale I should like to have you do so."

Yesterday afternoon at four o'clock Mrs. Margaret Winn, 64 years of age, who claims to have a diploma from a physician and nurses' association in England, was arrested yesterday charged with having performed a criminal abortion on Elizabeth A. Allen of Winton, and after a hearing was placed under $200 bonds to await the action of the grand jury in September. In default of bond she was committed. Miss Allen is not expected to live and if she dies the charge will be changed to murder. The prosecution against him is made by the city health officer.

Pope's Encyclical on Situation in France

ROME, Aug. 11.—The text of the pope's long expected encyclical to the archbishops and bishops of France concerning their future conduct in view of the enactment of the law providing for the separation of church and state, appeared in the Osservatore Romano today. It refers to the previous encyclical condemning the general principles of the law and says the time has now arrived to indicate what should be done to defend and preserve religion in France.

"We deferred," the encyclical continues, "our decision owing to the importance of this grave question and particularly through a charitable feeling for the great services your nation has rendered to the church. Having heretofore condemned this iniquitous law, we examined with the greatest care its articles to see if they permitted the organization of religious life in France without jeopardizing the sacred principles of the church."

After approving the recommendations of the French hierarchy, disapproving of the law, the encyclical says:

"Therefore, concerning cultural associations such as the law prescribes, we decree absolutely that they cannot be formed without a violation of the sacred rights which are the life itself of the church. Putting, therefore, aside these associations, which are considered forbidden to approve, it is opportune to examine if some other kind of organization, both legal and canonical, can avert the threatened dangers to the church."

The encyclical then examines the other forms of organization. The pope says nothing causes him greater agony than the combativeness menacing to the church in France, and therefore he hopes to find some other kind of associations not endangering divine rights, adding:

"But as this hope fails us and the law remains as it is we declare it is not permissible to try this other kind of associations so long as they do not establish in the most legal and most positive way that the divine constitution of the church, the immutable rights of the Roman pontiff and the bishops and their authority over the temporal affairs of the church, particularly the sacred offices, will be irreversibly protected by such associations. We cannot wish otherwise without betraying our sacred charge and producing the ruin of the church in France."

Two Brothers Knifed Boys Were Killed On a Trestle by Relative

There was trouble in the Polish colony in Williams street last night and two brothers were stabbed by Martin Kleerek, Larenz and Albert. The men who were stabbed, and while their wounds were not very serious they declare it was the purpose of their assailant to murder them. They claim he entered a room where they were sitting and armed with a knife threw himself upon them. They said he seemed crazed. They were so frightened by the suddenness of the attack that they allowed him to take them to the police station where their wounds were dressed. Larenz's most serious wound was in the scalp, at the back of his head, an ugly three-cornered cut, which might have been made by a bottle or a knife. He also had a bad cut on his forehead.

Albert Lis was cut on the breast, near the heart, and had the wound been much deeper, it might have been very serious. He was also cut on the nose, and his cheek was covered with slight cuts.

Larenz, through an interpreter, stated that it was a knife that was used on him. He could not, so he stated, explain the cause for the attack.

Kleerek, who is a brother-in-law of the victims of the assault, in company with the latter two, attended a Polish wedding in Williams street on Saturday night. It was said by one of their fellow countrymen that last night's affair dates back to that time, when the trio came to a misunderstanding, and a hot exchange of words resulted. Neighbors who were about at that time have been on the lookout for trouble between the men and were not greatly surprised on learning of last night's affair. Kleerek is still at large.

WARRANTS ASKED

For Arrest of Rapid Transit Employees

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—The dispute over the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company's right to collect a recent fare to Coney Island gave promise of renewed disorder today. Application was made to District Attorney Charles H. Smith for warrants for the arrest of employees of the rapid transit company on charges of resisting officers in deterring them from the cars after they refused to pay a second fare.

The general manager of the company said today that if he were unable to collect the double fares he would suspend traffic on all the surface lines to Coney Island.

Police Inspector Gross, who, last night, asked a passenger if he was not going to pay the fare, was today admonished by a deputy police commissioner from using his authority to help collect fares, and plans were made to station police under the charge of captains all along the lines where the employees of the company halt the cars to eject passengers. A resumption of the elections and fights was expected when the rush to Coney Island begins this afternoon.

A resumption of the elections and fights was expected when the rush to Coney Island begins this afternoon.

Police Inspector Gross, who, last night, asked a passenger if he was not going to pay the fare, was today admonished by a deputy police commissioner from using his authority to help collect fares, and plans were made to station police under the charge of captains all along the lines where the employees of the company halt the cars to eject passengers. OFF HIND WHEEL OF WAGON QUIT WORK.

There was a dissolution of partnership in Central street this afternoon that interested considerably with business on that street for a little while. The break in the harmony that existed came so suddenly that people were amazed and could not believe their eyes or ears. It was feared for a time that it would cause a run on the banks but it developed a run on the woodpile instead.

The off hind wheel of an old wood wagon, owned by M. McConnell, got mad at the rest of the bunch and took a sudden fancy to go home even say good-bye to the other chaps that had been its running mate for years, and when it quit work there was trouble in the family.

The wagon was loaded with wood and there was a sudden drop in the commodity. This happened near the corner of Market street and the wood was piled high above the street car tracks, delaying traffic for a short time. Wielding hands unloosed the driver in "getting together" and with the exception of a lost nut and a broken spring no damage was done.

CARDERS IDLE

Strike in Mill in New Bedford

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Aug. 11.—The strike of the card room help of Hottel Mill No. 2, commenced yesterday, has reached troublesome proportions. This morning the help in mill No. 1 struck out of sympathy, and unless they return to their work the corporation will be greatly hampered in the filling of orders.

No spinning can be done with the carding departments idle. The strikers claim that there is no trouble about wages. It is all over the employment of additional hands. The strikers say that one loss is enough, and refuse to work with the new comers who began his work yesterday.

STARVING LEPER FIREMAN TIGHE

Is on the Verge of Insanity Will be Given a Hearing This Evening

PITTSBURG, Aug. 11.—As a result of starvation and neglect, George Lush, the leper, who has been driven from state to state by frightened health authorities for three weeks, is on the verge of insanity. From a tent in the forest of Randolph county, West Virginia, where he was abandoned two weeks ago by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co., he cries for some one to shoot him and end his misery.

The latest plan for his care involves shipping him to Pittsburgh, where he once lived for a few months. Should this be attempted a vigorous protest will be entered by the department of health. Another turn in the case is the notice of a bill by the owners of the land on which Lush's tent is set up against the Baltimore & Ohio company.

The leper is rapidly becoming desperate as shown by the threat he made at the last official visit of the authorities.

"If they don't do something for me soon," he declared, "I will give people trouble by coming out of my way. I will give this disease to as many as possible."

He cried out to a passerby yesterday that he was starving.

"Bring me something to eat, or shoot me and put me out of this terrible misery."

He was visited a few nights ago by a well dressed woman who said she was from New York. Accompanied by the station agent she went to his tent after dark. There she called out to the leper:

"George, come out where I can see you. Don't you recognize my voice? Surely you know me?"

He would not leave his tent, and she visited him again the following morning. She returned to the station in time to catch the New York train, but made no comment.

POPE IS NOT ILL.

ROME, Aug. 11.—Among the visitors today, the pope received the Very Rev. P. G. Blanche, apostolic vicar of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, who found him perfectly well and strong.

OPERATIVE INJURED.

Michael Smith, residing at 27 William street, had a narrow escape from being killed, this afternoon at the Hamilton mills as the result of being wound around a shafting.

A man was summoned and the injured man was taken to the Lowell hospital where it was found that he had escaped with a general shaking up unless internal injuries can be found.

FINGER INJURED

MICHAEL GALLAGHER MET WITH AN ACCIDENT.

Michael Gallagher, aged 27 years and residing at 134 Chapel street, sustained a lacerated wound of the fourth finger of the right hand today as the result of a silver penetrating his finger. He was taken to the Emergency hospital where he received attention.

This is the hearing which was postponed from one night last week in order to give Mr. Tighe a chance to get some of his witnesses.

WILLIAM J. TIGHE, formerly a call fireman connected with engine 5 in Pawtucketville, who was discharged last month, will be given a hearing before the board of the engineers at the office of Chief Engineer of the central fire station in Middle street tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Gov. Ide has decided to appoint a commission consisting of two military and two naval officers to visit the different districts and hold meetings with the people to explain the situation and to obtain their cooperation in the campaign to wipe out the Pulajanes.

The commission will be composed of Maj. Gen. Wood, Brig. Gen. Lee, Gen. Devereux, and a naval officer. They will be given full powers to act in the name of the government.

CHINESE LABOR EAGLES' GROWTH

Many Contractors Want A Fine Showing Made by the Order

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Scores of applications for information concerning the proposed contract for 2500 Chinese laborers have already reached the Chinese consul in London and indications are that hundreds of persons are planning to make bids for this contract in the hope of realizing a small fortune from the recent issue of Panama canal bonds. But prospective bidders did not know the exact terms of the contract until the Chinese consul in London made public the specifications for furnishing the Chinese laborers.

The amount of this check will probably not be less than $20,000 and bids not accompanied by such a guarantee of good faith, will not be considered.

MUAWAKKEH, Wyo., Aug. 13.—Grand Worthy President H. D. Davis of the Fraternal Order of Eagles reports to the grand assembly of the order, which opened today, another year of rapid growth in membership and general strength of the Fraternity. The increase in membership being 25,000, making a total membership of 250,000 at the end of the order's eighth year. He calls particular attention to the work of the order in San Francisco, saying: "I am proud that we were the first of the fraternal orders to offer aid to the impoverished and homeless, and I am proud that we were the first to give money to the Chinese laborers who were so badly treated in that city. The order's work in San Francisco was a fine showing of the order's growth and strength."

ORDER TO SHOOT

In Order to Prevent a Lynching

RALPHIGH, N. C., Aug. 14.—Gov. Glenn is preparing a drastic general order to the commanders-in-chief of the North Carolina National Guard concerning the conduct of captains and military companies called into service for the purpose of putting down mob violence. The order of the governor is to prevent a repetition of the disgraceful occurrence at Salisbury last week when a mob took forcible from the jail and lynched three negroes suspected of being the murderers of the Lytle family.

It seems that under the old order of things the commanders of companies are subject to the orders of the sheriff. The captain of the company at Salisbury marched his men off the field because the sheriff would not give him permission to fire on the mob to protect the prisoners.

The new order gives to the military control of the situation in cases of disturbance where they are called in to service. The captains and other commanders are to be instructed to use discretion to repel and control the mob. Subsequent to the order is a warning to citizens to keep clear of any mob formation. The military commanders will be obliged to fire after the warning has been given, or themselves suffer a court-martial. The governor declares that any man composing a mob is without the pale of the law.

EVANS' FLEET

WILL PROBABLY ENGAGE IN A SHAM BATTLE

ROCKPORT, Mass., Aug. 14.—The two divisions of the North Atlantic fleet of warships and a flotilla of torpedo boats left their anchorage in this harbor today and went out to sea. It is generally believed that the ships will engage in a sham battle.

The torpedo boats were the first to get under way, and they were followed half an hour later by the first division of the squadron, commanded by Rear Admiral Evans. The two fleets steamed northward in the direction of Portland, and when they were well off shore, Rear Admiral Evans, commanding the second division of battleships, steamed out of the harbor for the open sea.

Since the warships have been in port here the officers of the fleet have been engaged in studying a system of signals and flags, and a practical demonstration of these signals will be made today.

Admiral Evans and the officers of his fleet will be the guests tonight of the citizens of Rockport and over 500 persons have been invited to meet the naval men in the town hall.

$150,000,000

Cost of Low Grade Double Track

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 14.—Papers of consolidation of three railroads in different parts of Pennsylvania will be held at Harrisburg this week, which will constitute the formal announcement of a project of proposed foreign bondholders associated with Joseph Haney, Jr., former president of the Western Pennsylvania railroad, to build a low grade double track from New York to New Orleans, which will cost about $150,000,000. Complete surveys have already been made and it is expected that work preliminary to actual grading and construction next spring will begin next fall. It is expected that the road will be completed in five years.

The proposed line will be built from New York to New Orleans, which will be 2,500 miles longer than the shortest line between New York and Chicago.

United States Trade Gains Rapidly

Much disappointment was evident on Friday evening owing to the unfortunate postponement of the amateur night at the Lakeview theatre. A large number of local amateurs had entered and a large number of their friends were present. It has been arranged to hold the postponed contest on the evening of August 15, however, so the disappointment will be short lived.

United States Trade Gains Rapidly

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Conditions of trade and industry in Porto Rico during the past year are shown by a report on that subject to the British foreign office by British Consul, Mr. W. H. St. John, a member of the bureau of statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor. Mr. Churchill directs special attention to the growth both in imports and exports and the increasing share of the former taken from the United States.

SLIGHT FIRE

IN A BRIDGE STREET TENEMENT LAST NIGHT

A slight fire occurred in a house on Bridge street near the corner of Tenth street last night when an alarm was sounded from box 32. The fire started in a sleeping room on stairs, probably from a light left burning on the floor. The firemen were promptly on hand and extinguished the fire. The house is owned by George Webster and occupied by Mr. Martin Peabody and family.

OF PARLIAMENT ARRESTED AND IMPRISONED

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 14.—M. Onipko, the peasant member of the late Russian parliament, who was arrested at Cronstadt after the recent mutiny there, and brought to the fortress of Peter and St. Paul here, will be tried by court martial separately. When he was arrested a sign of the fortress of Cronstadt was found on his person, but the drawing is said to be crude and of no strategic value. He will be defended by M. Kuzmin-Karavayev, formerly a member of the academy of law.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 14.—The Springfield woolen mills have closed down for the first time in many years. It is announced that they will not reopen unless eastern capital can be interested. This mill made cassimere for the clothing trade and sold direct.

COTTON WAREHOUSE COMPLETE

RAINBRIDGE, Ga., Aug. 14.—The big new cotton warehouse of the Rainbridge Warehouse and Storage Co. is nearly completed and will be ready in a short time for the reception of cotton. It is a modern, two-story building, being built of the new process white steel-line brick. It is situated in every particular and is considered absolutely fireproof. The indications are that this warehouse will receive extensive patronage in this section, as there has been a great demand for a building of this character.

SILK MILL EXPANSION

MALDEN, N. Y., Aug. 14.—The Ogdensburg silk mill has expanded its present quarters and there is a movement on foot to enlarge the plant and increase the capital stock of the company. The company now employs 500 operatives and is one of the few new industries brought to the Maple City which proved a success. For a time there was difficulty in securing a sufficient number of girls for help, but advertising brought them and now there are nearly 100 names on the waiting list.

May be a Break With Bulgaria

LONDON, Aug. 14.—A dispatch from Vienna states that the disturbances at Athina on Aug. 12 were the result of an anti-Greek demonstration which the Greeks sought to break up by rifle shooting. Prolonged fighting ensued, both sides losing heavily in killed and wounded. The Bulgarians then set fire to the town in four places. The Greek minister of St. George was stormed during the fighting and was killed. The Bulgarians had to be summoned from Burgum. The Greeks held a meeting at which it was decided to arm themselves with rifles and revolvers for the defence of their churches and cloisters and to blow up the churches rather than allow them to fall into the hands of the Bulgarians.

Defended Against the German Challengers

Big Gathering of Sportsmen at Marblehead Today and Fine Weather for the Contests

MARBLEHEAD, Mass., Aug. 14.—Early conditions today gave promise of a continuation of moderate winds and clear weather for the second of the trial races for the little sloop yacht, candidates for the defense of the Roosevelt cup against the German challengers. The wind which yesterday was from the east and southeast and blowing about eight miles an hour, gave the nathought of Spokane, her victory over the other sixteen boats, backed during the night into the northwest and at "start" this morning was blowing fresh and strong. That it might continue through the day and give the boats a good chance to show their abilities on a six mile run to leeward and a boat back, was the earnest wish of those who gathered at the yacht club this morning for the day's sport.

The complaint of some of the owners against starting the trial races so far off shore subsided after yesterday's contest, for the yachts in their first trial all arrived at the start on time and reached the race meetings within a short time after the finish. The race yesterday was started promptly on time and the slowest boat covered the fifteen mile triangular course in about three hours.

Nearly everyone took the opportunity this morning of congratulating Vice Commodore Clark when he came ashore for a few minutes on the fine showing which was nevertheless somewhat unexpected of the little Spokane, now regarded by all hands as the western aspirant for cup defending honors. The Spokane did not arrive in Marblehead until Saturday and no knowledge of her sailing qualities had preceded her.

The same might be said of the Vito owned by Trevor L. Park, of the New York Yacht club, which finished fifth in yesterday's contest and was always a factor in the race. Most of the other yachts had raced considerably in local waters so that something of their form was known. There was therefore some disappointment among the local yachts at the work of the Sally VIII in finishing almost last. The other boats showed well at times, while the New Orleans, the representative of the Southern Yacht club, made the best time on the five-mile reach along the second leg.

The regatta committee was early at the club house this morning gathering the usual party of guests for the day's sport and nearly a score of the ardent followers of the game had assembled when the two tugs arrived from Boston and swung round opposite the club

FOUR SUSPECTS

Held in Pecora Case Were Released

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—After an all day investigation yesterday into the strangling of Maria Pecora at 229 Carmine street on last Friday, Coroner Acicelli and Assistant District Attorney Manley did not change the opinion formed Sunday that the Sicilian whose first name is Beppino knows more about the murder than any one else. For that reason all the Italian detectives in Manhattan were scouring the town last night trying to find a man of small stature who has black hair with one curl, and wears patent leather shoes with white tops, a big diamond ring and a diamond horseshoe pin. The authorities haven't learned his last name yet.

Mrs. Russo, the waitress; Mrs. Gina Merlo, a neighbor of Mrs. Pecora, and Gerardo Renaro and Luigi Rinaldi, two friends of the dead woman who were first accused of knowing something about her death, were questioned yesterday, but only repeated the statements made on Sunday after Coroner Acicelli had first heard about the case, the Sicilian. The stories of the men were so convincing that the coroner ordered their release from the House of Detention, where they had been held as witnesses. The inquiry closed before Angelo Mazzocca, another friend of the woman, could testify, so he was held, to be questioned this morning.

The coroner thought he had track of Beppino yesterday, and sent a detective out to arrest him. When the man was brought before the witnesses he admitted that his name was Beppino and that he was a Sicilian, but all the witnesses declared that he wasn't the right one. Coroner Acicelli apologized to him and let him go.

While the witnesses were talking about the stabbing of a man by Beppino on Ash Wednesday last at Sullivan stage ready to proceed to the starting point off Half Way Rock.

At 11 o'clock the wind began to haul into the westward and became much lighter and the committee replaced the course signal with one postponing the race temporarily. Off shore the breeze had no strength and the prospects for a quick race were not good. The boats remained near the starting line trying out sails.

The committee boat surrounded by a fleet of little boats, arrived at start at 10:30 o'clock and immediately the signal for a new and windward course was run up. At that hour the wind was blowing only seven miles an hour but the committee decided to send the yachts out before the northwest breeze for a distance of six miles, with a boat back home instead of the triangular course which was laid out yesterday.

The weather was somewhat hazy off shore but there was no indication of a fog. The fleet of pleasure boats at the starting line was larger than on yesterday.

The wind finally settled down into the northwest and the committee decided to send the yachts away on the leeward and windward course. The starting gun was sounded at 11:55 o'clock and seventeen boats crossed the line, nearly all of them breaking out their splunkers to starboard. From shore it looked as though the leading boats were the Lowell, Hesperus, III, Sumatra, Auk, Caramba, and New Orleans. The Sally VIII and the William Kid were well astern at the start. Five minutes after the boats crossed the New Orleans was running through the fleet very rapidly and seemed to be getting well into the lead.

The wind was blowing six miles an hour as the yachts started out on the first half of their journey. It was a long, slow run down the wind, for, on getting well off shore, the breeze proved very light. What looked from shore to be the Manchester, seemed to be in the lead until just before the mark was reached, when another boat, thought to be the Sumatra, ran out ahead of her and turned a short distance in the lead. The first boat rounded the mark at 12:35, and the second at 12:45. They were followed by the others in quick succession.

Although it was thought at first that there were 17 yachts in the race, a careful examination of the fleet showed that the Elliott was not among the number, so that only 16 were participating. On getting around the mark the yachts found that the wind had hauled to the east of north.

At 1:15 o'clock the committee boat, headed by the Lowell, Hesperus, III, Sumatra, Auk, Caramba, and New Orleans, was followed by the William Kid and the Sally VIII. The rest of the fleet was well astern at the start. Five minutes after the boats crossed the New Orleans was running through the fleet very rapidly and seemed to be getting well into the lead.

More than 20 special cars were pressed into service to carry John's contingent of boys and girls to Mountain rock, and he was estimated that close onto 200 yolk makers left Lowell for the picnic grounds. ## CREW RESCUED

WERE TAKEN OFF A DUNNING BOAT

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—The bulk of a three masted vessel, burned to the water's edge and still blazing, was sighted 20 miles southeast of Cape Cod on Monday night by Captain Meldell, of the Steamer Elda, which arrived today from Hull, Mass. A sailing vessel was seen by the crew though the Elda stood by the wreck for a short time. It is supposed they got away in the boats or were taken off by a passing vessel.

OLD SOLDIERS

Having a Great Time in Minneapolis

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 14.—This was reunion day at the G. A. R. encampment. Gatherings of old soldiers were scheduled for all parts of the city and for all hours between 9 a. m. and midnight. There were also receptions by various patriotic societies, parade bands and organizations connected with the Grand Army.

The number of soldiers greatly increased today, the rush of travel apparently reaching its climax. Railroad men believe that the total number may reach 125,000. So far there has been no difficulty in caring for the city's guests.

A delegation 250 strong arrived from Massachusetts late last evening. The campaign for the office of commander in chief is growing active. The adherents of Chas. E. Brown of Zanesville, Ohio, have begun to boom their candidate energetically.

TROUBLE AT CONEY REV. LOUIS WALSH

More Disturbances Over the Double Fare

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—All yesterday disturbances growing out of opposing cars and opinion by public and by corporation officials and disorder which at times threatened to become acute owing to the determination of the people marked the situation in Brooklyn arising from the decision by supreme court Justice Gaynor on Saturday that the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company has not a right to charge a double fare of ten cents to Coney Island.

Conditions are not much clearer to-day than they were yesterday though far more quiet, owing to the activity of the police and less travel.

That the officials of Kings county and the borough of Brooklyn were prepared to enforce Justice Gaynor's decision became apparent during the day. District Attorney Clarke of Kings county detailed one of his assistants to hear complaints of rough treatment by the company's employees because they had refused to pay an extra fare.

Clarke also indicated that prosecutions would follow every proved case of maltreatment. Borough president J. S. O'Neil issued a public statement advising persons to pay but a single fare for a ride from points in Brooklyn borough to Coney Island and the police in the affected districts were ordered to be ready to quell any fresh disturbances.

Meantime Acting Police Commissioner Walden revoked permits empowering the company to employ special policemen to assist the regular men of the company to put off its cars persons who resisted any demand for the extra fare.

Mr. Walden declared that the ruling of Justice Gaynor would be enforced and any roughness toward passengers by company representatives would meet with arrest. This was offset and compensated to some extent by official opinion by Acting Mayor McGowan, later in the day, after a conference with corporation counsel Delany.

Falls & Burkinshaw Announce That They Have at Last Secured a Cure for Hair Troubles.

We beg to announce to the people of Lowell that we have secured the agency for one of the greatest discoveries of recent years. We refer to the prescription of Sir Erasmus Wilson, M.D., England's most successful specialist in diseases of the scalp, who was knighted for his many successes in the treatment of skin and scalp. Upon the death of Dr. Wilson this prescription was secured by American chemists and is now offered to the public under the name Dr. Wilson's English Life to the Hair. This preparation will grow hair on bald heads, even after all else fails. Unlike other hair preparations it is not sticky or greasy, but gives a live and glossy appearance to the hair. Miss Cornelia Stevens, 6 Smith avenue, Boston, Mass., says: "Dr. Wilson's English Life to the Hair grew a magnificent head of hair for me after I was told that I was becoming bald." My hair now reaches nearly to my waist and is heavy and glossy. I cannot too highly recommend it. If you are growing bald, troubled with eruptions, dandruff, itching or any scalp troubles, try Dr. Wilson's Life to the Hair. Albert Chemical Co., Boston, Mass., proprietors. Sold by Falls & Burkinshaw, 418 Middlesex street, Lowell, Mass. Price 50c.

that the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company had the right to refuse to carry persons who refused to pay a second fare, and the company's employees might use force, if need be, in the case of resistance.

Meantime the company, through its counsel, ex-Judge Edward M. Hart, issued a statement defending the right of the company to charge a ten-cent fare to Coney Island. It held that the question of fare was not involved in the case which came up before Justice Gaynor but that a prior decision of the appellate division of the supreme court, relating to this phase of the double-fare question had been nullified.

J. Childers, vice president and general manager of the company, backed up this opinion by a statement that business would be done "in the same old way."

Yesterday afternoon the company's employees again began halting cars whenever second fares were not forthcoming from passengers and demanding their payment. Several altercations occurred and there were some arrests. Numerous threats were made against the company and in some instances stones were thrown at cars and company employees.

The company last night forestalled to a large extent further clashes between passengers and employees by removing some of the trolley cars where most of the trouble yesterday occurred. This became necessary because trolley car traffic had become so congested. The elevated trains were jammed but as a rule the passengers paid the double fare without question rather than undergo delay. Those, however, who did otherwise on many of the company's lines were obliged by its representatives to get off and walk.

The body of a young woman which had not been identified up to midnight was found last night on a trolley crossing Coney Island track. The opinion is ventured by detectives that she may have met her death during the disturbance over double car fare to Coney Island when walking on the track or otherwise.

Late last night the Brooklyn Rapid Transit company relaxed its enforcement of its rule that double fares must be paid. Numbers of passengers on cars bound from Coney Island who would not pay the extra five cents were allowed by conductors and inspectors to continue on their way.

An inspector of the company who had been one of its special policemen was promptly arrested last night for an alleged assault on a boy. Early in the night operation of trolley cars along Gravesend avenue was suspended by the company but deputy police commissioner O'Keefe and a police inspector obliged the motorman to proceed.

REV. LOUIS S. WALSH, NEW BISHOP OF PORTLAND.

Appointed Bishop of Portland by the Pope

ROME, Aug. 14.—Pope Pius yesterday approved the decision of the propaganda to appoint the Rev. Louis S. Walsh of Salem, Mass., bishop of Portland.

The Pope yesterday received in private audience Mr. Donald O'Connell, rector of the Catholic University at Washington. To Mr. O'Connell the pontiff expressed great pleasure in the news of the proximity of the new bishop of the city of Portland.

The Pope yesterday received in private audience Mr. Donald O'Connell, rector of the Catholic University at Washington. To Mr. O'Connell the pontiff expressed great pleasure in the news of the proximity of the new bishop of the city of Portland.

Rev. Louis S. Walsh has been known to the Catholic people of New England for many years as one of the clergymen most interested in the education of the young and for his defense of parochial schools in public when occasion demanded it.

His office of supervisor of parochial schools of the archdiocese of Boston has brought him into close connection with every parish, and his connection with St. John's seminary, Brighton, for many years previous, brought him in direct communication with many of the students of that institution who are now among the pastors all over the New England states.

Rev. Fr. Walsh was born in Salem in 1859, and received his early education in the public schools of that city, entering the high school after completing the course in the lower grades. In 1878 he graduated from the high school, and in the fall of the same year entered Holy Cross college, Worcester.

His next year he was accepted by Archbishop Williams as a proper candidate for the priesthood, and sent to the Grand seminary in Montreal to study theology, the highest satisfaction to his superiors and instructors.

As a mark of his appreciation for the excellent work the young student had done in Montreal he was chosen by the archbishop to finish his ecclesiastical studies at the Grand seminary in Paris.

Abbe John Hogan, afterward president of the Brighton seminary, was at that time the head of the Paris seminary, and took a special interest in the young American, who destined later to be one of his principal assistants in laying the foundation for the success of St. John's seminary.

From Paris Rev. Fr. Walsh went to Rome, where he completed his studies and was ordained to the priesthood in December, 1882. On his return to his own diocese he was appointed assistant to Rev. William Dwyer, then pastor of St. Joseph's church, Chambers street, Boston, who had been in charge of St. James' church, Salem, and knew the newly ordained priest from his childhood.

He remained at St. Joseph's with Rev. Fr. Dwyer and Very Rev. William Byrne, C. F. M., his successor, in the pastorate of the church, until the opening of St. John's seminary in Brighton. Abbe Hogan, who had taken so much interest in Fr. Walsh as a student in Paris, was made the head of the new seminary, and there being need of good instructors for the staff, Fr. Walsh was called to the position, and obtained permission to have with him Rev. Fr. Walsh.

For several years the young priest taught as professor of rubrics and church history, and then as professor of canon law, resigning the latter position to act as treasurer of the seminary.

In 1897 Archbishop Williams instituted the office of supervisor of parochial schools, and chose Rev. Fr. Walsh as the best-fitted of his clergymen to take the position. Since then Rev. Fr. Walsh has been brought in contact with the schools of every parish in the archdiocese, and has become known to parents and children everywhere.

Notwithstanding the arduous duties of his office, he has had time to take part in the meetings of educators, and place through them and the public press before the public the true position of the Catholic church on the matter of education.

tion of the Catholic church on the matter of education.

Francis X. Walsh is a man of most suitable disposition, his quiet manner hiding well the force of character and determination of spirit that has been one of the principal aids to his success in the various positions he has held.

Among the clergymen of the archdiocese of Boston he is not only well known for his labors in the cause of the schools, but is also beloved for his personal qualities.

As an executive in the seminary and in his later work in the schools he has displayed a tact and strength that will be of great service to him in his new position as head of the most extensive diocese in the east.

WELL KNOWN IN MAINE.
PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 14.—While Catholics had generally looked for the appointment of Rev. Fr. Walsh to the bishopric of Portland, they have as far as been had kindly words for Rev. Louis S. Walsh, who was last evening announced as the appointee.

He is well known in Lewiston and Portland, and his name is very familiar to Portland Catholics, who have a high respect for his family and devotion to his work. He was a frequent visitor to this state until the death of his brother, James Walsh of Lewiston.

LACROSSE, Wis., Aug. 14.—Six men were injured, two probably fatally, in a shooting and stabbing affray yesterday on a Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul train entering Sparta, Wis., and at the Sparta station Louis Feltz of Milwaukee, becoming frenzied after leaving a parlor car where he had been the object of comment on account of his unkempt appearance, drew a knife and attacked the conductor. A struggle followed until Sparta was reached when the town marshal arrested Feltz. Feltz was shot eleven times and may die. Marshall Hubbard of Sparta was stabbed six times and may die.

John Cunningham, Oronowoc, Wis., passenger conductor, stabbed, John Christensen, brakeman, Harry English, Alfred Johnson, were either stabbed or shot.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE
If you happen at Lakeview during the afternoon or evening just drop in to the cozy little theatre at the rear of the flying horses and enjoy a good laugh. The Impertinent Vaudeville company is doing the entertaining, there being a host of good and funny comedians of a great many wonderful stunts in the vaudeville line. There are six acts in all and each and every one is worthy of honorable mention. It is not the best vaudeville show that ever happened but it averages up very well and it is as full of fun as an egg is full of meat.

Bunth and Radd, head out a European turn consisting of grotesque features that is very amusing and quite clever. The drummer quartet, four colored folk, sing songs while they prepare tables for a swell banquet. This is followed by a very good, Howard Colton as a public singer. In all the good and Actors and Melano, myastors of the old world, are very, very funny. The Alcares do a revolting ladder act that is an aerial gymnastic feat of the first order. See the show and laugh as I grow fat.

"GRAFT" CASES BROKE HER NECK

Two Chelsea Aldermen But Margaret Winn Were Indicted Will Live

GRAND JURY TOOK FELL DOWN FLIGHT OF STAIRS

On the Aldermanic Committee's Report She Was Removed to St. John's Hospital

BOSTON, Aug. 14.—The so-called "graft" cases originated only this year through talk made at a meeting of the board of aldermen of that city over the election of a city auditor, city solicitor and a philanthropic association.

On Jan. 15 Alderman William S. Young made charges of graft and bribery relating to the contest for these three offices. It created a great stir with the result that a special investigating committee, consisting of Aldermen O'Brien, Delane, Warren, Gates and Young, was appointed to investigate.

This committee gave long hearings and employed a stenographer, and it was not until March 13 that it reported to the full board. Not only did the committee investigate the charges made by Alderman Young, but it went further and inquired into the fact that it was alleged members of the city government had indirectly profited by.

The committee recommended that a copy of the evidence be submitted to the City Council for such action as it should see fit to take, and also that five members of the board resign, naming Charles H. Hinch, Thomas E. Ring, Edgar E. Strout, David White and William S. Young.

Alderman Young descended from the report and in his minority report said that the committee did not fully represent the great mass of testimony taken and was unable and unqualified as a guide for the members of the board of aldermen to act by. One of the features of the majority report was that it found absolutely nothing improper in any way in the conduct of Alderman Horatio R. Delane.

The minority report was discussed for several months by the board and it was finally decided to send the matter to the district attorney, and it was not until the present sitting of the grand jury that the matter was reached. Since then the issue has been the only and only political subject discussed in Chelsea and has been in about every heated argument.

The indictments of Messrs. Ring, White and Nichols grew out of entirely separate transactions. The two former are present members of the board of aldermen and Mr. Nichols is the secretary of the republican city committee and has figured lately in politics for several years.

In pursuance of an order of the Chelsea board of aldermen last year report was made on the Chelsea north bridge. Mr. Ring, then, as now, was a member of the board of aldermen. The report called for an appropriation of $10,000 for the bridge, including, and of this $10,000 was set aside to be spent on the bridge. Ralph Ring, a son of Alderman Ring, was awarded the bridge contract. The aldermanic committee in its finding stated that it found that the Alderman Ring, who had been indicted as a result of the contract awarded to his son to reconstruct a part of the Chelsea north draw and was therefore believed that the law with reference to members of the city government doing business with the city directly or indirectly had been violated by him.

The aldermanic committee met with reference to Alderman White stated that the committee believed that he either wrote or caused to be written a note to Hubert L. Hall, the latter a candidate for city auditor. In which he asked Hall to call at either his (White's) home or store and either bring settlement or make no settlement. "So I have been fooled in these deals before." The aldermanic committee also reported its belief that White made a proposition to Alderman Cornish, designed to secure from Hall the sum of $500 for the control of his (Cornish's) vote and his own (White's) vote.

In the case of Mr. Nichols the aldermanic committee's report set forth that Nichols made an improper proposition to Alderman Clarence A. Warren contained in the following language alleged to have been used by Nichols in a conversation on the subject of Hall's candidacy for auditor: "Now I know you would not take any money and I know that Alderman Gates would not take money, but you are friendly with Alderman Gates and associated in the church with him and in the Y. M. C. A. and I think you have influence enough with him to get him to vote for Mr. Hall for auditor. I should not expect you to do that for nothing and if a matter of $50 or so would be any inducement to you to use your influence with Alderman Gates I should like to have you do so."

On the Aldermanic Committee's Report She Was Removed to St. John's Hospital

Yesterday afternoon at four o'clock Dr. William M. Collins was called to 29 Bridge street to attend to Mrs. Margaret Winn who fell down a flight of stairs Monday morning. Dr. Collins made a rapid examination, and decided that the woman was suffering with a broken neck. He called the ambulance and ordered the woman removed to the hospital.

Mrs. Winn was taken to St. John's hospital and placed in a private room. A medical examination declared that the woman's neck was broken. He said she was suffering from a fracture of the vertebra, but that she had a fair chance of recovery.

It was at 29 Bridge street that Mrs. Winn fell down stairs and although the
